One day a postman came to my village.

The postman brought me a letter of my son, Saul.

The postman looked at the envelope again. „From Saul“, he said. He gave me the letter and walked away.

„Martha, Martha“, I called to my wife. „Come here! We have a letter from our son, Saul.“

„Is he alive and well? I am going to find the school teacher. He can read the letter.“

Saul is making a lot of money in a foreign country.

A lot of other people came.

Everybody wanted to hear

my letter.
